PRESS RELEASE

Review and Reform of the Access to Information Act, 2018

The Information Commission (InfoCom) recently concluded a two-year research initiative focused on enhancing access to public information regulations and practices. The findings and recommendations are presented in a whitepaper which may be found on the Information Commission's website www.infocom.sc.

The InfoCom invites your open input. This is a historical opportunity for you to contribute and make an impact. We would be grateful for any feedback or queries emailed to mhasan@infocom.sc by the 31st of January 2024.

Thank you for your engagement.
